

EDITOR IN CHIEF

Following on the success of 2006 we continue to receive articles and other submissions for CJIC.

The 2007 CJIC meeting held at the annual conference in Edmonton Alberta provided feedback and ideas from the seven members in attendance. Feedback received from participants included: a continued need for more “one pagers” on certain topics, features on select members of CHICA and an article on how to write an article.

A letter has gone out to abstract presenters encouraging them to publish their findings in CJIC.

The Editorial Board membership has been reviewed and changes made. Policies for Editorial Board and conflict of interest have been revised and/or developed and submitted to CHICA Board for approval.

We have ensured that CJIC is appropriately listed on various medical library search tools such as PubMed and the Cumulative Index to Nursing and Allied Health Literature. This may assist in attracting more scientific content to the CJIC.

Members and chapters are to be congratulated for continuing to promote and provide interesting and important content for CJIC.
